

LICENSE AGREEMENT
Crescent Software grants a license to use the enclosed software and printed documentation to the original purchaser. Copies may be made for back-up purposes only. Copies made for any other purpose are expressly prohibited, and adherence to this requirement is the sole responsibility of the purchaser.

However, the purchaser does retain the right to sell or distribute programs that contain Crescent "toolbox" routines, so long as the purpose of the included routines is to augment the software being sold or distributed. Source code for Crescent products may not be distributed under any circumstances, nor may you distribute .OBJ or .LIB files that contain our routines. This license may be transferred to a third party only if all existing copies of the software and its documentation are also transferred.

Windows products that use DLL libraries require special licensing from us if you provide your source code.

This product is licensed for you by only one person at a time. Crescent Software expressly prohibits installing this product on more than one computer if there is any chance that both copies will be used simultaneously. This restriction also extends to installation on a network server, if more than one workstation will be accessing the product.

APPLICATION PROGRAMS

Crescent Software products that are complete applications may not be distributed. Unlike the various "toolbox" routines that are intended to be added to a customer's programs, programs such as QuickMenu are considered to be complete applications. In these cases, a separate copy of the product must be purchased for each computer that will be running the Crescent Software application.

WARRANTY INFORMATION

Crescent Software warrants that this product will perform as advertised. In the event that it does not meet the terms of this warranty, and only in that event, Crescent Software will replace the product or refund the amount paid (less restocking and shipping charges), if notified within 30 days of purchase. Proof of purchase must be presented along with a brief description of how the product fails to meet the advertised claims. Software may not be returned if the disk envelope seal is broken.

CRESCENT SOFTWARE'S LIABILITY IS LIMITED TO THE PURCHASE PRICE. Under no circumstances shall Crescent Software or the authors of this product be liable for any incidental or consequential damages, nor for any damages in excess of the original purchase price.

To be eligible for free technical support by telephone and to insure that you are notified of any future updates, please complete the attached registration card, if present, and return it to Crescent Software.
